

STATE HISTORIC PRESERVATION DIVISION
DEPARTMENT OF LAND & NATURAL RESOURCES

Seeking highly-motivated and team-oriented individuals for various archaeology positions for the islands of Oahu and Hawaii.

ARCHAEOLOGY BRANCH CHIEF (Oahu)
(HISTORIC SITES PRESERVATION SPECIALIST III)
($51,512–$64,932)

OAHU LEAD ARCHAEOLOGIST
($47,448–$55,500)

HAWAII LEAD ARCHAEOLOGIST
(HISTORIC SITES PRESERVATION SPECIALIST II)
($47,448–$55,500)

HAWAII ASSISTANT ARCHAEOLOGIST
($42,144–$45,612)

EXEMPT APPOINTMENTS NOT TO EXCEED JUNE 30, 2007

Archaeology Branch Chief is responsible for administering and directing the Archaeological Branch of the State Historic Preservation Division. Requires grad. degree in anthropology with coursework in archaeology from accredited college/univ.; five (5) years Hawaiian/Pacific archaeological field experience as a principal investigator; and a demonstrated record of publication in the field. Must possess knowledge of state/federal legislation, rules/regs. governing historic preservation program, principals/practices of historic preservation mgmt.

Lead Archaeologists report directly to the Archaeology Branch Chief. Duties include supervising the daily operations of the an island archaeology section; reviewing inventory survey reports, archaeological assessment reports, archaeological monitoring plans, preservations plans, and data recovery objectives and plans of a complex nature to determine their acceptability; making recommendations to ensure these reports comply with professional archaeological standards and Hawaii Administrative Rules. Performs other duties as assigned. Requires Master's or Doctorate degree in archaeology or anthropology with coursework in archaeology from accredited college/univ. and five (5) years of archaeology experience, prefer three (3) years of experience be in Hawaiian/Pacific archaeology. Experience in conducting research as demonstrated through design and final publication of research results is highly desirable.

Hawaii Assistant Archaeologist reports to the Hawaii Lead Archaeologist for assignments and oversight. Duties include reviewing inventory survey reports, archaeological assessment reports, archaeological monitoring plans, preservations plans, and data recovery objectives and plans of a simple to moderately complex nature to determine their acceptability; making recommendations to ensure these reports comply with professional archaeological standards and Hawaii Administrative Rules. Performs other duties as assigned. Requires an undergraduate degree in archaeology or anthropology with coursework in archaeology from an accredited college/univ. and three (3) years of archaeology, prefer one (1) year of experience in Hawaiian/Pacific archaeology.

Quality of Experience: Possession of the required number of years of experience will not in itself be accepted as proof of qualification for a position. The applicant's overall experience must have been of such scope and level of responsibility as to conclusively demonstrate that he/she has the ability to perform the duties of the position for which he/she is being considered.

Applicants for all positions must have a valid driver's license and be physically able to participate in rough terrain field work. Qualified applicants with disabilities who can perform essential functions of the positions are encouraged to apply.

To apply, submit resume and State Exempt Application to Melanie A. Chinen, State Historic Preservation Division Administrator at 601 Kamokila Blvd., Room 555, Kapolei, Hawaii 96707.

Exempt application may be obtained by calling 692-8015.

Continuous recruitment until needs are met.

The State of Hawaii is an Equal Opportunity Employer.